

CYBER THREAT INTELLIGENCE INTEGRATION CENTER
LEADERSHIP BIOGRAPHY: DEPUTY DIRECTOR
MAURICE (Mo) BLAND

(U//FOUO) Maurice “Mo” Bland is a career intelligence professional with more than 25 years of service to our Nation. He was appointed to the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service in February 2014 and is the Deputy Director of the Cyber Threat Intelligence Integration Center. Before joining CTTIC, Mr. Bland was the Associate Deputy Director, Cyber, of NSA/Central Security Service’s Signals Intelligence Directorate.

(U) Mr. Bland graduated from Georgia Southwestern College in 1987 with a B.S. in Political Science. In 1999 he received an M.S. in Information System Management from Central Michigan University. He also holds a master’s degree in National Resource Strategy from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.

(U//FOUO) Mr. Bland’s military service included three tours of duty with NSA. During his Army career he commanded the 206th Military Intelligence Battalion and Echo Company 201st Military Intelligence Battalion, both at Fort Gordon, GA, and he was Chief of the Signals Intelligence Directorate’s Cyber Mission Management. Mr. Bland also served on the Army Staff and completed two combat tours in support of operations in Iraq and Afghanistan. He retired from the United States Army as a Colonel.

(U) A native of Gray, Georgia, Mr. Bland currently resides in Upper Marlboro, MD, with his wife D’Netra and their three daughters.